

High Country Index

Rev. 1/2/18

The index is comprised of several sections: a “Subject Index” listing all in-depth articles, an “Authors Index” (for major articles exclusively), a separate index combining poetry, sayings, and song lyrics by author, a “Short Index” which contains only the longer or more significant articles from what are usually the very brief items found in “Short Stuff,” “PSA News,” “Ranch Roundup,” and “Philmont’s Neighbors,” and a final index combining “I-Camp” and “Another Good Campsite.” If you cannot find what you seek in the “Subject Index,” be sure to look in the “Short Index.”

Because this index was created primarily for writers looking for in-depth articles, most regional reunions/news, editor’s comments, personal items in “Trail Talk,” financial statements, and meeting minutes are not included. This index is designed to be as “user-friendly” as possible and is, therefore, not structured according to leading guides such as the Chicago Manual of Style. The index is updated in January of every new year.
